Legion Plans Big Doins Here Next Armistice Day

Plans Include All Lake Okechobee Area for Celebration

"All day meeting with representatives on the ground in the order of the day for Belle Glade on next November 11th, according to plans announced by Legion Commander Sid Smith.

Bands, amarchin', cowboys and cowgirls aridin' and soldiers and ex-soldiers strutting their stuff down the avenue, with speakin' singin' and dancin' in between times, and a jam-up barbecue when eatin' time comes—that's what the boys are plannin'.

Ralph Freeman as general chairman with J. B. Jones bar-becue chairman. The boys are picked with other chairman to be announced soon.

All service organizations around the Lake are to be invited as are school bands and other organizations.

Ralph will have an outstanding speaker on hand and expects dignitaries from far and near as Belle Glade's reputation for "doin' their stuff" on such occasions is widely known.

Underground Cables Prove Themselves in Telephone Service

Belle Glade was not isolated from the outside world during the recent hurricane because of the buried lines. A stretch between Pahokee and Belle Glade where aerial cables were used for a bit over a mile proved the undying of service from Pahokee and Canal Point.

George Bachman, local manager for the telephone company, informs us that the company will continue until all lines to the Glades and connecting the several communities are in underground cables.

All telephone service has been restored except to Hillsboro Plantation where many poles remain to be put right.

Sixty boys and girls including junior members have already signed up for the Belle Glade High School Band this year.

This year's tests have been given students in the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades in order to get the proper instrument for their child with Mr. Payne and a representative of a Chicago music company.

The band goal is 100 members including beginners, there is still room so, parent, if you would like to have your child join the band NOW IS THE TIME!

High Brass Visits Dike Repair Work

The Glades was full of "high brass" this week from Jacksonville, Atlanta and Washington of the U. S. Engineers on an inspection tour of the Okechobee dike, and especially the damage done by the recent hurricane.

No public announcement has been made, but quite a few people are of the opinion that since the beating the dike took for such a long period of time in an inspection of the strengthening work proposed.

Certainly the dike has been finally designed to take and the damage done pointed out by some additional work should be done.

Repairs on the wash-out have been completed and the material used is rock and shell pumped from the lake's bed. The group spent Tuesday night in the wash-out and arrived in Clewiston Wednesday morning where Mr. Broadfoot, U. S. Engineer, was in charge.

Among those visiting here on this inspection, D. C. Col. H. G. T. A. Middlebrooks, A. L. Cochran, F. B. Slichter, and G. A. Hathaway, from the South Atlantic Division, Atlanta, Ga., Col. B. L. Robinson, T. Lindner, B. B. Blackman, and J. H. Scott, from the Jacksonville District office, Col. R. W. Pearson, L. L. Burnet, and A. A. Scott.

The two sections of the sixth grade are occupying the north wing of the new addition and the south wing is being used by science and social studies classes of the seventh and eighth grade, although this building is not yet complete. Blackboards are to be placed and the tile for the floor has not arrived.

While work is proceeding on the roof of the new addition, more room space has been made available for the third section of both the second and fourth grades which have been installed in this school for the first time this year.

The Elementary Principal, Mrs. Anna Keene, is using part of the elementary first aid room for desk space. The cafeteria has been painted and presents a fresh new appearance with asphalt tile on the floor.

adjustments, entitled "Looking Ahead for Florida Agriculture." Suggested practices for 1920-21, contain a wealth of information and advice that will serve as a starting point for the FVFA convention discussions. As an example of the down-to-earth type of material contained in the report is the paragraph on sweet corn, this year considered for the first time as an individual crop.

"In 1947-48," the report reads, "approximately 6,000 acres were harvested, and during the season 1947-48, 1,200 acres were harvested and sold at profitable prices. It is suggested that growers might expect to market 18,000 acres, providing proper handling facilities are available."

B. P. W. Club Plans National Business Women's Week

The Business and Professional Women's Club has been regular bi-monthly meetings when they met at the Community Club House Tuesday evening, with President Audrey Jones presiding.

It was announced that a gift from the Club had been presented Mrs. Margaret Thorne who was married last Sunday and will reside in Thomastown, Ga. Delegates were selected to attend the district meeting in Clewiston on September 11th which will be a luncheon at the Clewiston Inn. At that time a new district director will be elected. Representatives of the club will be Mrs. Happy Ogle, Mrs. Elma Delaney, Mrs. Audrey Jones, Mrs. Mary Toy, and Mrs. Ingene Fontaine.

National Business Women's Week will be conducted October 9 through the 16th with the theme "Boost Your Town—It Will Boost You." During the week, daily activities are planned with the annual Boston Dinner being the outstanding event. Mrs. Clarie Wilkinson was appointed chairman for the week, with Mrs. Nannie Parrish and Mrs. Elma Delaney serving with her.

Mrs. Mary Leonard and Mrs. Emily Jones were voted into the Club as new members. At the close of the evening, sandwiches and cakes were served.

Production planning for the 1949-50 season will be one of the most important phases of the complex fruit and vegetable industry to be covered during the six annual convention of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association in Sarasota on Oct. 13 and 14, said LaMonte Graw, FVFA manager, in Orlando today.

Production planning in its simplest form is the adjustment of commodity output to suit anticipated consumer demand, based on the general economic situation," Graw explained. "This involves the production of sufficient fruit and vegetables to meet consumer requirements at a fair price, with a just profit for the grower."

"Failure of the industry to plant sufficient acreage to adequately supply our markets can result in loss of these markets to competitors. On the other hand, over-production can lead to financial loss for the grower. When demand and production are in balance, we have the ideal situation."

"Meeting at the Sarasota convention, growers of various commodities will review with other growers of the same commodities the economic pattern of past years and the outlook for the 1949-50 season. The larger the attendance at the meeting, the more valuable will be the discussions that take place. Therefore, members and associates from throughout the state are urged to attend."

P. T. Will Honor Teachers At Reception

The teachers of the Belle Glade School will be honored Monday night with a reception given by the Parent Teacher Association. The affair will be at 8 o'clock at the High School and all parents are invited to attend.

This is an annual social event to welcome the teachers and to give them an opportunity to meet their students' parents.

The mothers and fathers of children who are entering school this year for the first time are especially invited.

White and Negro Schools Show Varying Increase

Glades schools—both white and negro—find themselves with increased enrollments over previous years.

South Bay School Principal Mrs. Edith Eckman announces that enrollments reached 117 with a number of pupils not yet reporting because of absence of families.

Mrs. Margaret Hess is first grade teacher; Mrs. Olga Hardy has the second grade; Mrs. Leslie Martin has third and fourth grades; Mrs. Ruth Murphy has fifth and sixth grades; Calvin Peacock has the 7th grade with Mrs. Eckman the 8th; Gervais McCreary will teach science in Junior High grades.

The Okecho Migratory Camp School, Mrs. Andrew McDonald principal announces registrations of 110. Due to the fact that a number of these living in the Camp are in the northern vegetable growing states, this school will have a greatly increased enrollment as families return to the Glades.

Registrations in Belle Glade Elementary and High School progressed through Wednesday with a total of 377 for Elementary and 320 for High School, making a grand total of 697 with more coming in each day. Elementary boys number 203 and girls 174. High School boys registering number 157, girls 173. Total enrollment at the end of the first month of school last year was 706, and it is expected that for the same period this year it will run much higher.

Lineman's Fall Mars Record Of No Storm Deaths

Samuel Dewey Sutherland, 51, of Miami, working in a crew for the Florida Power Company repairing storm damage was killed when he was struck by a high voltage line.

The accident occurred at the addition to the burning from electricity. Some confusion about the line being energized and proper notice to the workers caused the accident, it is reported.

An oxygen tank and a put motor were used for several hours under competent medical attention. It is reported, but is not available.

Robert L. Plunkett of Boca, Ala., now living in Miami, also a member of the crew was also injured, but having his safety belt on he was saved the fall from the burning line.

Coroner George Williams, Constable Raymond Meek and State Patrolman Sheffield investigated the accident.

Derry Funeral Home of Belle Glade and Pahokee received the body of the victim.

Of the number granted, 19,001 were restricted. Of the restricted, 6,000 were denied license for "incompetency," 11, for mental infirmity and 1, 623 because of

C. M. (CHUD) GREEN

C. M. (CHUD) GREEN has received official notification of his appointment as Manager of the State Prison at the State Prison System.

Mr. Green came to the Farm in 1915 as farm manager and has since been associated with the Glades agriculture area from the farm. For several years he was associated with Hattie Chambliss in general farming and for one year with Hillsboro Plantation as a General Manager.

When he returned to the Farm he was made Assistant Manager and Acting Manager when illness caused the late W. B. Granger to step in for a leave of absence.

This appointment by the Commissioners of Public Institutions has the widespread approval of Glades citizens and others throughout the State.

Power Company Had 184 Men Repairing And Rebuilding

Thirty-two crews totaling 184 men and including tree surgeons were used by the Power Company to repair and replace lines and equipment in the Glades following the hurricane. Men from Texas and North Carolina were among those brought in.

Crews from the Company's own ranks and from private contractors were brought in, one entire crew coming from Jacksonville.

All customers are reconnected into service except a couple of outlying places such as Hillsboro Plantation, where the line is down completely in places.

Peppel Paul DeFoy, Glades Manager, said the following statement, "I want to sincerely thank our customers for their understanding and tolerance during the hurricane and following the hurricane."

"Your patience during the restoration of your electrical service was a great inspiration to all of the 225 men and women who worked to restore service in the Everglades. City Commissioners, Police departments and the State Highway Patrol gave us wonderful help."

"The people of the Glades are a great and wonderful group and we enjoy working for you. Thanks again from the bottom of my heart."

The State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission expects to distribute 1,000,000 bluegill seedlings to farmers to be planted for federal aid.

Florida's federal aid allotment for wildlife restoration was increased from $31,265.61 in 1918 to $119,938.46 in 1919.

From Rock Oil to Gasoline
One of the oldest says that great oaks from little acorns grow—a statement which is irrefutably true. By the same token great industries also grow from strange and modest beginnings. A century ago, for instance, salt was obtained from brine wells in this country. A Pittsburgh citizen found that his well was producing not only the salt but a certain amount of crude oil. He hit on the idea of bottling and selling this, with the appealing label, "Kier's Petroleum, or Rock Oil, Celebrated for its Wonderful Curative Powers."

A few years later a New Yorker noticed some of the bottles in a drug store. As it happened, he owned acreage near Titusville, Pennsylvania. He wondered if his land might hold oil, and sent a railroad conductor named Edwin L. Drake to investigate. The rest of the story is a dramatic chapter in American history. Drake had many a set-back, but he went stubbornly ahead, in the face of public ridicule which characterized his venture as "Drake's Folly." He struck oil—and the oil industry, as we know it today, was born.

Rock Oil, which was supposed to cure almost anything, has gone. In its place we have gasoline, fuel oil, diesel oil, lubricants, and thousands of other products which make life better—and we have an industry which is a cornerstone of our economy.

'Too Late to Classify' sort. Advertising is spreading the word of what this state has to offer the summer visitor and thousands who came this summer are returning north to tell of the wonderful air conditioned Florida during the cool nights and break down the prevalent idea that Florida is unhealthily hot at this season of the year.

The airlines have played an important part in developing summer travel to Florida. Eastern Air Lines, with more flights into Florida than all other domestic airlines combined, have spearheaded a national advertising campaign to introduce summer travel to an entirely new public.

According to Eddie Rickenbacker, E. A. L. president and general manager, Eastern is spending over one million dollars this summer to tell northwesterners that Florida is a delightful place to visit at this season. Eastern also launched a summer excursion plan that provides the lowest scheduled airline fares in history, permitting passengers to save from 60 percent to 87 percent on the return portion of their ticket.

Operating new 70-passenger, DC-4 Buccaneers, National Airlines is going after not only summer business but year-round patronage and informed the nation's scheduled air carriers and the Civil Aeronautics Board of the company's intention to file a new coach fare tariff of four cents per mile compared to the present rate of a little over 6 cents per mile. If allowed, the new coach fare would become effective October 1.

The coach fare would be even lower than National's present history making summer excursion fares and very little more than present rail coach fares between Florida and northern points served by the line. Another novel fare plan offered by National is the "family plan" for international air travel. Just as in domestic travel, the family plan would apply for travel between midnight Sunday and midnight Wednesday, the reduction being offered on one-way as well as round trip travel.

The family head (father or mother) would pay the regular fare. The other parent and all the children not over 21 years old would pay only half fare.

It is not necessary that both parents make the trip. Any member of the group except the full fare passenger may buy their half fare tickets to any destination on the route not beyond the destination of the full fare passenger with stopovers permitted. This particularly appeals to Cubans who are finding Florida a popular summer vacation spot and whole families can make the trip at rates so reasonable they can easily afford it. This family fare plan also applies to domestic travel, according to G. T. Baker, president of National. All-time passenger records were set by National on July 1, when a total of 806,054 revenue passenger miles were recorded. The day's passenger load factor was 86.26 percent. The line has stepped up its service to the highest level in its history. National has proven what low summer excursion fares can do in bringing summer travel to Florida and they look for more and more each succeeding year.

"We could have done as well last summer," president Baker said, "if we'd been permitted to put in summer excursion fares between Florida resorts and the big population centers of the north."

"Building up the summer vacation season down here has hinged largely upon two points. We had to sell northwesterners on the attractions of Florida resorts, beaches, and entertainment—down to a level of competition with northern resorts. And it had to be air travel, because people with two weeks' vacation don't want to spend their two weeks getting to and from their holiday destination. Traveling by air they can get three weeks right at the playground of their choice. National has advertised Florida and their summer excursion rates on a broad scale and their effort has benefited the state tremendously."

more and more to the state and airline officials are now convinced that as much business can be developed in summer as in winter with proper advertising, publicity and attractive summer excursion rates.

NEWS VIEWS

E. D. A. DOUG
Recent life insurance statistics prove the American husband is a pretty good guy. With the average husband, usually or than is absolutely necessary, there should be an accompanying as three rousing cheers to the nation's husbands. There are 35 million husbands in this country, and most of them are working hard and supporting a family and taking care of the world on their terms. They may not be getting the credit they deserve, but they're doing their best. If there's not quite enough success, at least they're trying.

The same goes for the wife. That is, hang up the adjective, but that the word "wife" is more than appropriate, in our particular instance. The true husband, yes, we are talking about the American husband. NATIONAL GUARD requiring complete training. Here in Belle Glade, Company E is a part of the Nation's M-Day Force which is training to take its place in our country's first line of defense.

Actually the M-Day (Mobilization Day) Mission of the new National Guard is not new but older than the Nation itself.

Back to the Militia of the 17th century which were the forerunners of the National Guard as we know it today. Then the Colonists laid down their plows and tools and took up their muskets for the immediate defense of their homes.

Today, that spirit again prevails but with a modern organization, vastly expanded and equipped with the latest in weapons and equipment.

In order to accomplish this mission, the new National Guard was authorized to expand from 19 divisions it had in World War II to 25 Infantry Divisions, 10 Armored Divisions, 21 separate Regimental Combat Teams and 40 Anti-Aircraft and Artillery Groups (97 battalions).

In addition, there are numerous non-divisional combat units including Field Artillery, Armored Cavalry, Engineer, Quartermaster, Signal and Medical units.

The Air National Guard has 12 Air Wings of 72 Fighter Squadrons, 12 Light Bombardment Squadrons, 26 Aircraft Control and Warning Squadrons and 10 units.

Organization of the new National Guard began in 1948, and today is virtually completed with a strength of more than 155,000 men with more than 5,000 units.

Army units total more than 4,000 with a strength of 315,000. The Air National Guard has completed organization of all its allotted 34 units and has a strength of 41,000 men.

The National Guard's service in the country is not limited to the training for and the fighting of wars, however. Guardsmen guard the nation's borders in Maine in the fall of 1947 and are credited with saving several companies. They worked hard on the ground during "Operation Haylift," when the blizzards of 1948-49 swept the western States. The Columbia River floods in Oregon and the hurricanes that hit Florida and Louisiana in 1948 necessitated calls for the National Guard.

And the Guard responded in the same tradition as it did at the San Francisco earthquake in 1906 and again in the Ohio and Mississippi Valley Floods of 1938.

The local Guard Company serves during hurricane emergencies as guardsmen and are important in the communications set-up with their walkie-talkies.

Today's Guardsmen are associating themselves with traditions older than the Nation itself—but as modern as the newest tank or the assembly line. They have the opportunity of training with the latest of Army equipment and methods.

They augment their civilian income, earn credit towards retirement and receive promotions as they increase their proficiency.

COMMUNITY YOUTH Command Post For One Billy Mathis, Recreation; Joan J. Mathis, Recreation; and Donald J. Mathis, Recreation.

The later assemblies participated in recreational periods, he main features of which were dining table games and card games. Afterward, volunteer services were held by Rev. Bowman. Each program was spread off with a very impressive candlelight "Sharing Hour," during which time the group held silent meditations.

During the Thursday session, Rev. Bowman reiterated several of the points he had made earlier in the week regarding the greening and selection of M. J. F. leaders. He said that officers in the organization should be elected, not for fancy appearance or personality, but for their sound "brain cells" available in the individual's up-to-date.

He stated that he would have a person in office who is willing to give of his time, have one of superior intelligence who is reliable, less willing and non-punctual. Rev. Jones has been teaching a course in Methodist Youth Fellowship here.

All young people in Belle Glade and the surrounding area remained one again of the banquet to be held at the Community Methodist Church here tonight.

Rev. Vandewater said that although the attendance at the Youth Week meetings averaged the good fifty young people he is hoping for nearly eighty-five at the banquet. Youth Week is an annual affair.

The M. Y. F. invites everyone to fellowship with his neighbor, and to attend Church on Sunday.

an accident victim unless we adults protect him.

Emphasis on child safety is particularly appropriate in September, according to the Florida Department of Public Safety, because at no other time of the year are so many children exposed for the first time to the dangers of our streets. In spite of careful teaching by their parents of correct pedestrian habits, children are still immature in their thinking, and warnings have very little meaning to them.

We can't over-estimate the importance of conscientious traffic training on the part of parents," Kirkman said, "but we shouldn't forget that the responsibility for child safety will always lie heavier on the shoulders of the motorist than the parents'."

In an address with his project, the Department reminded all drivers that in 1948 about 70 children between the ages of 5 to 14 were killed in motor vehicle accidents in Florida.

"Many of these deaths," Kirkman said, "happened because motorists forgot to expect the unexpected while driving near schools, playgrounds, and residential districts. When a child's life is at stake we can't afford the luxury of laxness."

Apiculturist Says Queens Are Bargain At $2.25 A Pound

Here's a bargain for you—one pound of queen bees for only $2.25—and that is a real bargain because at the beginning of the season you'd pay more than $3.50 for the same amount.

Perhaps you don't want the bargain, but there are people scattered all over the world who do, and according to John D. Haynie, apiculturist with the State Agricultural Extension Service, they'll pay as high as $1.25 each for queen bees.

Florida queen and honey bee shippers realized about $40,000 last year from the sale of 13 pounds of queen bees. In addition to the queens, they also shipped out 33,000 pounds of other bees and at 3.50 cents to the pound that's a lot of bees.

Hayne said Florida bees have been added to each distant lands as Norway and Sweden as well as all over the United States and the Caribbean Islands. They are shipped by the 19 specialists in the state engaged in the queen and honey bee package business.

"Honey has been a one-to-two million dollar business in Florida," said Haynie, "but the shipping of package and queen bees is on its way to becoming big business."

At the beginning of the season, queen bees command a top price of $1.25 and then the price drops to 75 cents as the season advances.

Haynie offered the following answer to the query as to why bees buzz, "If somebody stole your honey and nectar—you'd buzz too."

Florida Sport Fishing Hits New Record During 1948-49 Season

Florida's sport fishing business hit an all-time high during the 1948-49 season, Coleman Newman, State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission director, announced last week.

Newman reported that 273,918 persons bought fishing licenses during the fiscal year to shatter all previous records. Sales exceeded the 1947-48 figure by more than $3,400, he said.

Newman's report showed that the state accommodated more out-of-state anglers last year than ever before. Non-resident license sales numbered 83,808, a 34 percent jump over the previous year. Sales to residents increased 18 percent with a total of 190,110.

Newman said the sky-rocketing non-resident sales resulted from pointing up fresh water fishing in out-of-the-publicity campaigns by the game agency and the State Advertising Commission.

Receipts from fishing license sales amounted to approximately $570,613, nearly $150,000 more than the hunting license total. The director pointed out that receipts from fishing exceeded those from hunting for the second time in history.

Fishing license sales topped those for hunting for the first time during the 1947-48 season.

Florida Riches Poured Into Uncle Sam's Pig Income Tax Trough

Federal internal revenue collections in Florida totaled $34,150,052 in the fiscal year ending July 1, 1949, the research and industrial division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday in its weekly business review.

"This total was made up of $194,882,895 in individual income taxes, including withholding taxes; $70,857,593 in corporation income and profit taxes; $20,869,512 in employment and carriers' taxes; and $54,540,052 in miscellaneous internal-revenue such as taxes on amusements, furs, jewelry, luggage and toilet preparations.

"Comparative levels of tax collections are significant. Compared with the fiscal year 1948-1949 with the previous fiscal year, a four percent increase in employment taxes is noted, showing an extension of business and industry in the State. An increase of more than half a million dollars in corporation taxes is also noted.

"A decrease of 19 percent in individual income taxes paid and of 12 percent in miscellaneous collections are brought out by the comparison.

"Total collections for the 1948-1949 fiscal year were down 13 percent from the previous year."

Record Classes To Graduate At State University Soon

A record shattering second Summer session graduating class of 543 candidates at the University of Florida is scheduled to receive 546 degrees in commencement exercises in the new gymnasium at 8:00 P.M., Saturday, September 3.

The large number of candidates compares with 372 who received degrees during the same period last year. Many of the candidates are public school teachers for Florida who returned to complete work for advanced degrees.

Included in the degrees to be received are 241 bachelors, 64 law, 138 masters and 3 Ph.D. Two students, Richard H. Allen and William Robert McCown, will receive bachelor and law degrees. William M. Scruggs, Jr., will receive both the BSA and BSE degrees.

Commencement speaker will be Richard W. Ervin, Attorney General for the State of Florida, who will speak in The Part Education Plays in Developing Moral Values.

Horticulturist Tells How To Treat Shrubs Broken By Hurricane

GAINEVILLE, Fla. — The care of plants damaged by the recent hurricane requires only ordinary good judgement, according to G. H. Blackmon, horticulturist with the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Florida, but he offers the following advice to bolster that good judgement.

If the main stem on your plant or ornamental shrub is broken, Blackmon says the best thing to do is get rid of the plant for it cannot be saved.

If shrubs were subjected to severe whipping by the high winds with the result that tips were broken, cut back the branches behind the splintered wood.

As for pruning, Blackmon says he wouldn't advocate any more pruning than is necessary to remove the broken wood. Many plants are flowering at this time, he explained, and over-pruning may do permanent damage. In the case of plants that have been partially uprooted, to the extent that about half the root system is damaged, wet the soil, pull the plant back into position and tie it there. Provide suitable padding around the tie to prevent scarring the bark and cut back the plant to compensate for the scanty root system remaining.

Where bark has been worn by rubbing or damaged by flying objects, Blackmon suggests you cut away the bark to an undamaged area and dress the wound with a good grade of paint or a commercial wood dressing.

In the case of pruning or cutting back damaged limbs, only those branches of more than an inch in diameter require protection and should be painted or dressed.

"These same general suggestions would follow for trees," said Blackmon.

You Must Pay "The Man" If He Comes After Your Automobile License

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 6.—(FIS)—If you refuse to surrender your driver's license under the automobile financial responsibility law, you have to pay the expenses of the peace officer sent to get it from you. Attorney General Richard Ervin has ruled that the expenses of such an officer are "collectable as any other account."

The financial responsibility law requires a driver at fault in an automobile accident to pay damages and show ability to meet expenses of any future accidents. Failure to do so means loss of the driver's license for a year.

If the driver does not give up his license voluntarily, a peace officer may be sent to get it from him.

Birth Announcement

Mrs. Vernie Boots of Belle Glade has received word of the birth of a son, John Robert Whitford, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Whitford of Wakefield, Mass. Mrs. Whitford and Mrs. Boots came to the South Bay Schools in the fall of 1938 as young teachers just out of college. Mrs. Whitford will be remembered here as Miss Mary Whit Bussey.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE CITY OF BELLE GLADE:

As voters, I feel that you should know what has been accomplished during the past two years. The following things have been done through the cooperation of your city commissioners:

During the past two years, over $30,000 worth of equipment such as trucks, graders, bulldozers, police cars, etc., has been bought. More streets have been paved in the past two years than were paved since Belle Glade was incorporated. Belle Glade has no outstanding debts or bonds against it except against the water department, which is self-liquidating.

This year, I was placed in charge of the Building and Sanitary Department, and helped in the formation of a new building code. No metal roofing or siding put on under this code was blown off during the recent hurricane, nor was any building built under this new code seriously damaged.

Last year the sanitary commission set up a fund of $15,000 anticipated revenue to run the department. They collected $12,779.16—leaving a deficit of $2,220.84.

This year, I was in charge of the sanitary commission. The amount of anticipated revenue was again $15,000. So far, collections amount to $18,116.75—a surplus of $3,116.75. This is the first surplus shown by this department since it was created.

I feel that my record as commissioner speaks for itself. If elected again I will continue to work for further improvements and for the interests of the people of Belle Glade.

Your vote and support will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

A. J. RICHMOND

South Bay Gets Dusting

The Town of South Bay has been dusted over the weekend with DDT dust as a means of mosquito control made necessary by the infestation of mosquitoes coming in the wake of the recent storm. The town site was dusted earlier in the season with such good effect that mosquitoes have not been a problem all summer until the last week.

The Town parks and street crews have been busy all summer keeping the streets in good condition by filling in with shell rock and keeping weeds run down on vacant lots to mitigate any mosquito threat. The County Road Department has also been active in grading up the South Bay streets for a good run off in case of heavy fall rains.
